Title: Report on Sanskrit Week Observation

Dates: 31/07/2020 – 06/08/2020

Activities: Debate, Quiz, Elocution, and Student Seminar

Introduction:

The Department of Sanskrit celebrated Sanskrit Week digitally from the 31st of July to the 6th of August 2020, aiming to promote the rich cultural heritage and linguistic significance of Sanskrit. Through a series of engaging activities including debates, quizzes, elocution competitions, and student seminars, the department endeavoured to instil a deeper appreciation for Sanskrit among students and foster its continued relevance in contemporary society.

Activities:

Debate Competition: A debate competition was organized wherein students deliberated on topics related to the importance of Sanskrit language and its relevance in modern times.

Participants showcased their oratory skills and knowledge of Sanskrit literature, engaging in insightful discussions on the preservation and promotion of Sanskrit.

Quiz Contest: A quiz contest focusing on various aspects of Sanskrit language, literature, and culture was conducted.

Students participated enthusiastically, showcasing their understanding of Sanskrit grammar, vocabulary, and historical significance.

Elocution Competition: An elocution competition provided students with a platform to express their thoughts and emotions through recitation of Sanskrit verses and literary compositions.

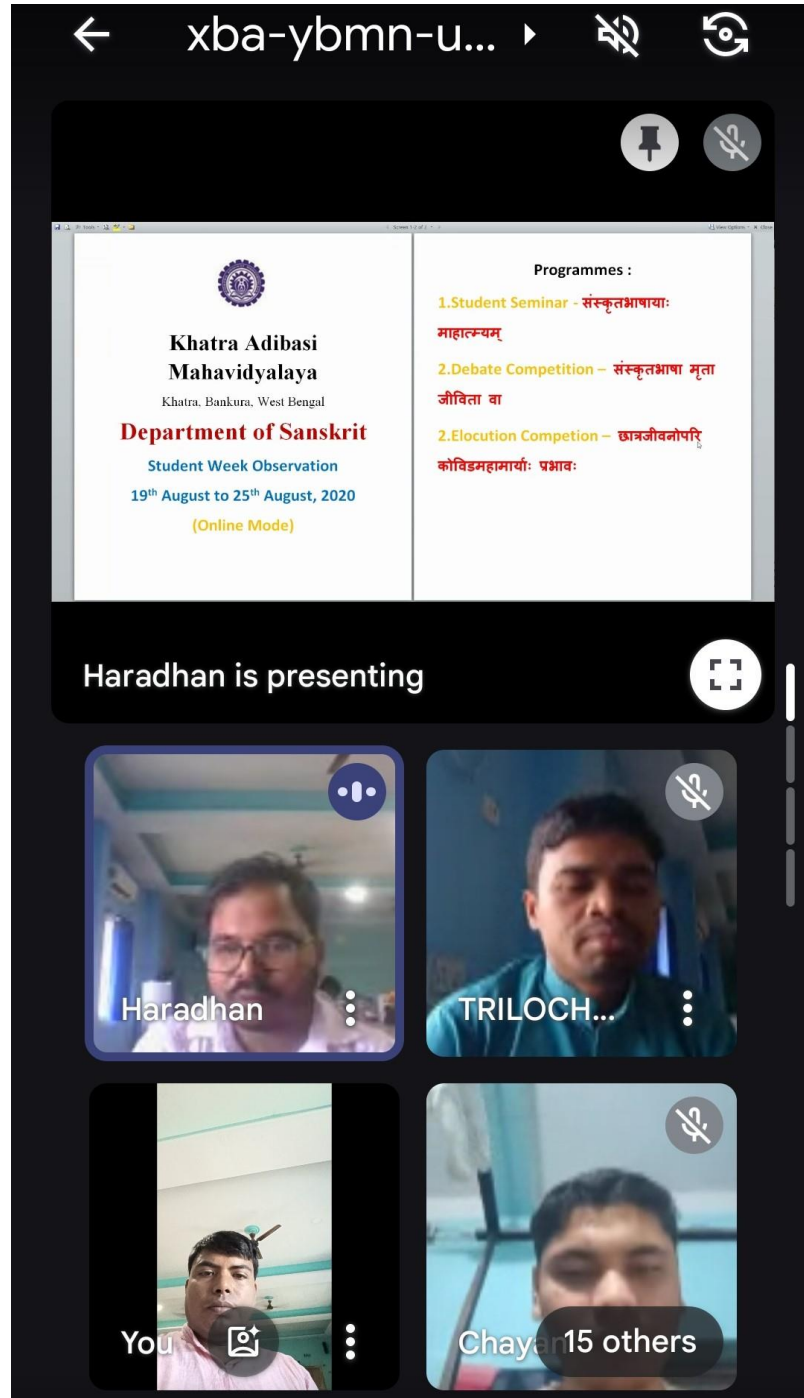

Participants captivated the audience with their eloquence and interpretation of classical Sanskrit texts.

Student Seminar: A student seminar was held where participants presented research papers and shared their insights on topics related to Sanskrit studies, linguistics, and cultural heritage.

The seminar provided an opportunity for students to delve deeper into scholarly discussions and exchange ideas on Sanskrit literature and its contemporary relevance.

Conclusion:

The Sanskrit Week Observation organized by the Department of Sanskrit was a resounding success in promoting the rich heritage and contemporary relevance of Sanskrit language and literature. Through engaging activities such as debates, quizzes, elocution competitions, and student seminars, the department succeeded in fostering a deeper appreciation for Sanskrit among students and encouraging scholarly inquiry into its diverse facets.
