“Critical Thinking & Philosophizing”

Funded by: Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR)

Organised by: Department of Philosophy, Khatra Adibasi Mahavidyalaya, Bankura (WB)

21st to 22nd January, 2022

Webinar Report: The Department of Philosophy of Khatra Adibasi Mahavidyalaya organized a two-day National webinar and periodical lecture on “Critical Thinking & Philosophizing” funded by Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR) from 21st to 22nd January, 2022. Four eminent speakers like Prof. Md. Sirajul Islam of Visva Bharati University, Rtd. Prof. Dr Raghunath Ghosh of University of North Bengal, Dr Buddhadev Bhattacharya of Nava Nalanda Mahavihara and Prof. Dr Rajkumar Modak of Sidho-Kanho Birsha University shared their knowledge and thoughts in this webinar. On the first day of the webinar, Dr. Nityananda Patra, Principal, Khatra Adibasi Mahavidyalaya virtually inaugurated the webinar and delivered the welcome address as the Patron of this webinar. He rightly pointed out that Critical Thinking is the process of using and assessing reasons to evaluate statements, assumptions, and arguments in ordinary situations. Speaking on the primary goal of this webinar, he maps that this webinar will deliberate upon the scope and virtues of critical thinking which will prove beneficial for all the stakeholders participating in this webinar. The first speaker of the webinar was Prof. Md. Sirajul Islam of Dept. of Philosophy and Religion, Visva Bharati University. His topic entitled “Sufism: A Spiritual Movement of Islam” oriented the participants about Sufi saints who disseminated their pluralistic messages in the Indian subcontinent at a time when the idea of religious tolerance was not even debated in a large part of Western Europe. Prof. Islam clearly refers to the Sufi saints’ exhortations of not transgressing the limits determined by God. Since the Sufi saints practiced this spiritual Islamic principle in its entirety, they shunned all forms of extremism not only in matters of faith, but in all walks of life. They advocated the universal values of religion that reach the minds and the hearts of people beyond man-made distinctions. In contemporary India the impact of Sufism can be seen through the prism of arts and culture. The multi-faceted Sufi tradition reflects an essentially pluralistic and composite culture that connects people of this country beyond a great many barriers. Great many Indian Sufis, like Khwaja Gharib Nawaz Moinuddin Chishti of Ajmer, Baba Fariduddin of Pakpattan and Delhi’s Qutbuddin Bakhtiyar Kaki, Hazrat Nizamuddin Aulia and Chiragh Dilli left an everlasting and magnetic impact on the elite and common masses without any discrimination of caste creed and religion. This egalitarian attitude of the Sufis has paved the way of unification and also preaching of love towards all. The second speaker of the webinar was Rtd. Prof. Dr Raghunath Ghosh of University of North Bengal. His deliberation entitled “Philosophy of Harmony: In the light of Rabindranath” focused on ethical values concerning negation in harmonizing human life as observed by Rabindranath Tagore. Dr Ghosh observes that Tagore has taken the meaning of the term ‘negation’ sometimes in the sense of difference (anyatva or bheda), sometime in the sense of absence (abhāva) and also in the sense of virodha (contradiction). Dr Ghosh argues that our life becomes balanced if we rely on two wings of our life—positive injunction (vidhi) and prohibitive order (niṣedha). In other words, our life becomes melodious if it maintains the ‘dos’ and ‘don’ts’. He rightly equates this discipline with Tagore’s idea of restrictions and prohibitions imposed on human conduct as found in Indian tradition. The first day of the webinar ended successful with an interactive session between participants and resource persons. The first speaker of the second and final day of the webinar was Dr Buddhadev Bhattacharya of Nava Nalanda Mahavihara who spoke on “Swami Vivekananda’s Contribution to Practical Vedanta” foregrounding on consciousness. He differentiated Descartes idea of “I think, therefore, I exist” from Vedanta’s philosophy of “I exist, therefore, I think”. The final speaker of the webinar was Prof. Dr Rajkumar Modak of Sidho-Kanho Birsha University. Through a power point presentation, he shared his knowledge on “Raja Rammohun Roy: An Uncrowned King” highlighting on his multi-faceted aspects like Enlightenment, Indian Renaissance, Socio-religious Reformation and bridging the gulf between India and the West. He spoke in extenso on Roy’s contribution in introducing scientific thoughts in Education, channelizing western education by East India Company and Missionaries and imparting education through vernacular medium of instruction. His presentation organically led to an interactive session and the webinar ended with a vote of thanks by the Convener, Dr. Sk. Aktar Hossain, Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, Khatra Adibasi Mahavidyalaya. The organizing committee also ensured that e-feedback form is filled by the participants and e-certificates sent to their respective emails.

Seminar on Philosophy

Dr. Nityananda Patra

Critical Thinking is the process of using and assessing reasons to evaluate statements, assumptions, and arguments in ordinary situations. The goal of this process is to help us have good beliefs, where “good” means that our beliefs meet certain goals of thought, such as truth, usefulness, or rationality. Critical thinking is widely regarded as a species of informal logic, although critical thinking makes use of some formal methods. In contrast with formal reasoning processes that are largely restricted to deductive methods—decision theory, logic, statistics—the process of critical thinking allows a wide range of reasoning methods, including formal and informal logic, linguistic analysis, experimental methods of the sciences, historical and textual methods, and philosophical methods, such as Socratic questioning and reasoning by counterexample.

The goals of critical thinking are also more diverse than those of formal reasoning systems. While formal methods focus on deductive validity and truth, critical thinkers may evaluate a statement’s truth, its usefulness, its religious value, its aesthetic value, or its rhetorical value. Because critical thinking arose primarily from the Anglo-American philosophical tradition (also known as “analytic philosophy”), contemporary critical thinking is largely concerned with a statement’s truth. But some thinkers, such as Aristotle (in Rhetoric), give substantial attention to rhetorical value.

The primary subject matter of critical thinking is the proper use and goals of a range of reasoning methods, how they are applied in a variety of social contexts, and errors in reasoning. This Seminar will deliberate upon the scope and virtues of critical thinking.

I firmly believe that this proposed seminar and its deliberations by the distinguished resource persons and its interactions with the participants will be an epoch-making decision in the history of our college. Thank you very much for your patient hearing.
